However, do you like to know how bean bag baseball gathers your friends, family members, or neighbors as a team? All in short!

- Firstly, you need two teams, so divide your friends into two sections for the game, not for life. Each group should have separate color
- One team is the fielding team, and the other is the striking team. Fielding teams can be positioned as they usually would in the play area while lining up the striking team behind home plate by holding assorted colored bean bags
- To start the game, all players must throw their bean bags. Then run all bases and get back to home plate

That's how you can score a point. So, winning is not much difficult.

- What the fielding team has to do is, get all bean bags in the right colored hoops that are scattered around the play area

After finishing, yell, "stop." At this point, another team stops running, and no more runs can be scored for that inning

- Fielders cannot move to hold the bean bags; they should pass. Only they can pivot.
- Then switch roles of teams
